Power Is On!

"Starting Off Strong

On August 23, the former 9th grade students of Colerain and White Oak flowed into the gymnasium to get a strong start for their sophomore school year.

To begin the orientation, Mr. Byrne gave a brief welcoming speech. Afterwards, the other administrators, along with the 1984-85 Student Council President, Pam Gillespie, talked about different ways that the sophomores could "strengthen" the school by joining clubs and becoming more involved with the school. Following the speeches, the Thespians gave an entertaining display of their acting talents.

Then came the most exciting part: the tour. And to add to that excitement, they were treated with their first high school pep assembly courtesy of the Pep Band, Rhythymettes, Flag Corps, and Cheerleaders.

"Where are you going to put all of that?"

Student Council President Pam Gillespie opens the show.

At Colerain, you soon learn that school can also be fun.

The Rhythmettes, Cheerleaders, Flag Corps, and Marching Band started the school year off by "Prancing with Pride" in the annual Harvest Home Parade.

Leading the Rhythmettes were Captain Kathy Bowman, First Lieutenant Sonia Robertson, and Second Lieutenant Jennifer Jentes; leading the Cheerleaders was Lisa Hughes; leading the Flag Corps were Captain Jill Bolden, First Lieutenant Dawn

Collussi, and Second Lieutenant Karen Even; leading the Marching Band was field Commander Wendy Harmon. Together, Colorain's 150+ performers dazzled the crowd with superb routines.

Doug "Billy Idol" Becker also stunned the crowd.

"We've got Spirit, how 'bout you?"

This year, the spirit week festivities were done with a humorous twist. Going along with the weird styles of clothes displayed throughout the week, on the final day, students dressed up like their favorite star or character. We saw characters like: Alfalfa, Marilyn Monroe, Dick Tracy, Cyndi Lauper, Donald Duck, Billy Idol, and Cool Copeley. Kevin Kiefer and Steve Batsch were given the honors of introducing each character. When the formalities were over, the student body voiced its vote for the best representation. No doubt about it—Alfalfa sprouted to the lead with a roar of approval. Spirit week helped recharge the Cardinal spirit.

Afterwards, the students hit the dance floor.

It was lights, camera, action as the 1984 Football Homecoming, "Hoorah for Hollywood" started off.

The evening began with the football game. Although they started off slow, the mighty Cardinals swooped on the Forest

Park Chargers. At halftime, the beautiful Queen candidates and their handsome escorts were introduced. Homecoming Chairman Lori Bierbaum and her escort Brad Smith were totally excited as they announced the results of the voting earlier that day. Karen Even representing Junior class, was the second runner-up; Lisa Hughes, representing Cheerleaders, was the first runner-up; and finally Kathy Bonert, representing Senior class, was announced as the new Homecoming Queen.

"The Big Decision"

Furthering their plans for the future, many students took advantage of two special evenings at Colerain to help them make a big decision. College night and Vocational Open House were designed to present students with the many options and opportunities available.

Representatives from many colleges were present for College Night to promote their schools and respond to questions. Admission policies, program offerings, and financing were among the topics discussed.

Vocational Open House, held jointly with Northwest, was aimed at informing sophomores of the educational alternatives offered in the school district. Tours were given to give students a first-hand look at the simulated work environments. The options were there; the decision was theirs.

There is always something special happening at Colerain High. Each year, students from around the world attend the school. This year, the school had the pleasure of welcoming Marianne Kainu from Finland, and Joanne D'Orazio from Australia. These beautiful young ladies brought warmth and cheer to Colerain.

Another special feature at Colerain was the variety of assemblies which took place throughout the year. For homecomings and holidays, to build pep or make presentations, to educate and entertain, the assemblies highlighted Cardinal life.

"Pretty cool, hey!"

Mistletoe Magic

'Twas a night in December
When throughout Colerain,
All the students were singing
A happy refrain.

Their classes were over
And evening was here.
It was time for the dance
And holiday cheer.

While Chris as the D.J.
Provided the sounds,
We made up a wish
As Santa made his rounds.

The walls were decked out
With mistletoe and holly,
Which tranformed the room
To a place that was jolly.

The holiday season
Gave us reason to cheer,
But the best part of all
Was that we could be here.

It all begins "Through the looking glass."

"Belles on Their Toes"

I'm willing to give up dates.(?)

Another successful year of theater began with the production of Belles On Their Toes, the 25th show produced by Carol Stephens. The legacy which she started 7 years ago, of excellence on Colerain's stage, continued with this performance.

The curtain opened with the blow of a whistle and the pitterpatter of little feet. The Gilbreth family was focused on as Mrs. Gilbreth was leaving on a business trip and the children were about to embark on an adventure of their own—keeping the house together alone. The humorous way they dealt with their adventures (misadventures) made this performance fun for everyone.

Drama Club and Thespian Troupe 1093 continued their tradition of excellence with their winter production of George Orwell's 1984.

Ignorance Is Strength

War Is Peace

Freedom Is Slavery

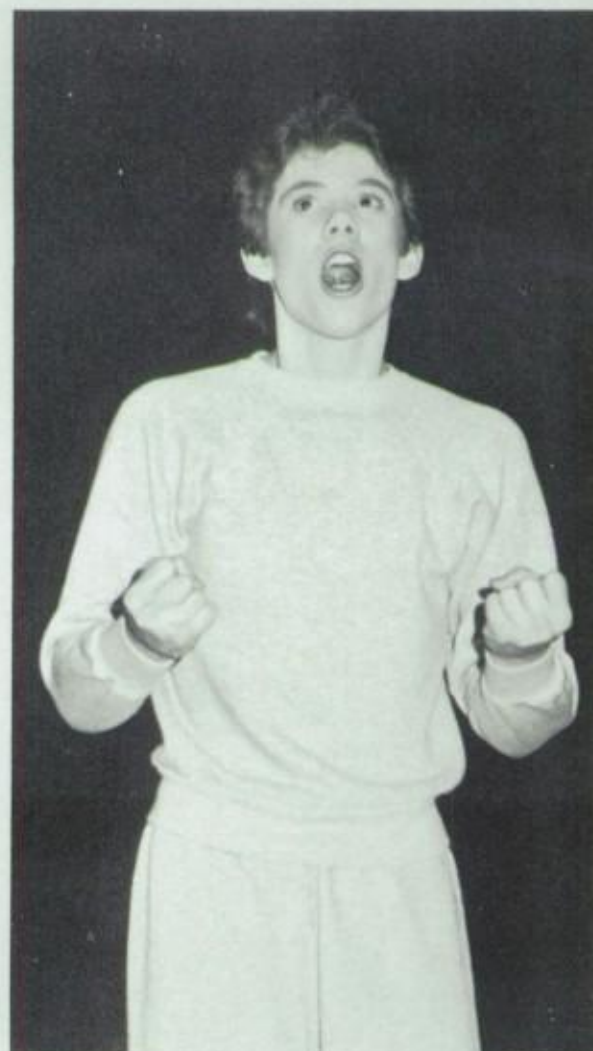

These are the ideas of the Party of Big Brother. It is a society where fear runs rampant—fear of facecrime, thoughtcrime, and other crimes against Big Brother. 1984 is the story of two party members, Winston and Julia, who commit the ultimate crime—they love each other.

The consequences Winston and Julia face as a result of their love make for a touching and thought provoking drama which ultimately leaves its audience believing that "Big Brother is watching you."

Through the combined efforts of Colerain's music and drama departments, the spring musical, Oklahoma, was a big hit (YEOW).

The story is set in the wheat fields of the Oklahoma territory. It is about four young people who fall in love and must overcome the situations that occur as a result of "young love." However, with the help of Aunt Eller, Curly and Laurie along with Will and Ado Annie, manage to join in the joys of love.

Sets, which transformed the stage into a "real farm," dancers, and singers enhanced an already outstanding performance. The ultimate goal was achieved—Entertainment.

TALENTED Cardinals

The talented athletes of Colerain were honored with dignity and pride at the annual Sports Awards Banquets. Requisites for awards included hard work and devotion, as much as achievement.

The Banquets were divided into three major sports seasons: in November, those athletes who participated in the fall sports of football, cross country, volleyball, soccer, and cheerleading were honored; in March, those who participated in the winter sports of basketball, wrestling, wrestlettes, and cheerleading were awarded; and in May, those who participated in the spring sports of track, softball, and baseball were honored. Among the well-deserved awards were trophies, certificates, letters and special plaques.

Basketball Homecoming is always a festive time of year for students at Colerain. The 1985 Homecoming was no exception as students picked their royalty for the February 22 game with Forest Park.

Jaymee Daniel, representing the junior class, was selected as queen. Kim Shepherd, senior class candidate, was chosen as first runner-up and Wendy Ochs, the candidate from Ensemble/Collage, was picked as second runner-up.

Kevin Kiefer, a candidate from senior class was chosen as King. Scott Wolf, representing the junior class was first runner-up and Bob Fischer was second runner-up.

Following a 58-42 win over

Forest Park, the students danced to the music provided by a local radio station D.J. The homecoming dance and related activities were under the supervision of Lisa Lucas, chairperson, and Mr. Jerry Hill, "C" Club sponsor. Center court never looked better than it did when the Colerain "Royals" starred.

tire included: shorts, T-shirts, sunglasses, gym shoes, grass skirts, "wild and crazy" beach towels, and other creative beach attire.

Students jammed to the tunes of the Party People, who supplied the surf music from 8:30 to 12:30. Limberness and a spirit of adventure, coupled with a streak of exhibitionism, were required for the limbo contest. The success of the dance proved there was no room for winter gloom at Colerain.

Marching Musicians

Students involved in any area of the music department, including the Rhythmettes and Flag Corps, were honored at the annual Band Awards Banquet. Like the Sports Awards Banquets, students were recognized for their hard work and spirit, as well as for their individual achievements. Deserving students were congratulated and presented with letters, certificates and other types of awards. Special acknowledgment was made of the many seniors whose love of music led them to contribute their talent to the music department during all three years they were at Colerain. The finale of the evening was a huge buffet for all in attendance. Everyone got their just desserts.

Seniors were busy preparing for the prom months before May even arrived. Elayne Smith, Prom Chairperson, had the time-consuming job of ordering mugs, glasses, party favors, decorations, and the D.J. Others were busy buying tickets, prom garters, ordering pictures and getting fitted for tuxedos and dresses. Then, the votes were cast for prom king and queen as well as for prom favorites (results are on the next page).

Finally, as the day arrived, the ballroom was decorated by the senior representatives. As the day progressed, the seniors' hearts were filled with anxiety and excitement while preparing to attend this final dance.

The annual Senior Awards Night brought out a long parade of seniors who, through their hard work, proved that studying pays off in the long run.

Students and their parents gathered in the auditorium for this semi-formal affair. Miss

Cooke, Mr. Byrne, and the rest of the scholarship committee organized the entire event. Students were awarded with certificates, medals, pins, plaques, and various demoninations of scholarships for such things as a high grade-point average, dedication to certain clubs and activities, and vocational excellence, to name a few. Local scholarships, in addition to college scholarships, were also presented.

The Road to Excellence

The yearly Underclass Awards program was the end of the road to excellence for underclass students in 1985.

The program opened with many encouraging remarks from Mr. Byrne. Then, Miss Peters, master of ceremonies, jumped right into presenting the awards, which ranged from 3.5 grade point average to National Honor Society; from counseling at Camp Kern to journalism awards. Vocational students also received many special awards for their outstanding participation and showmanship at national, state, and regional contests.

Wendy, Jim, and Scott discuss graduation plans.

Students began their trip down the long road during Baccalaureate and Graduation. At Baccalaureate, special messages and songs inspired seniors and their families; at Graduation, the junior girls, linked in the Daisy Chain, paved the road to commencement.

The Baccalaureate program was organized by Senior Class President Bob Fisher. He was in charge of providing speakers, entertainment, and refreshments. The program inspired students to go forth and work with faith and hope toward a bright future lavished with fame and fortune.

The Daisy Chain was composed of junior girls chosen by the faculty. Its purpose was to lead the processional of graduates down their new road and horizon to a sparkling and magical future.

We Made It!

We made it! The joyful cheers resounded through Millett Hall at Miami University where the class of 1985 received their diplomas. Flanked by the Daisy Chain, the graduates marched into the hall to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," and the floor became a sea of red and white with proud relatives and friends watching.

Valedictorian Kathy Kowell and Salutatorian Dennis Kolb addressed their classmates and recounted the achievements of all. Following a stirring solo, "Friends," by Jim Brandenburgh, Mr. Byrne presented the class to Superintendent Russell Sammons. Names were read, diplomas were received, caps were flung into the air. All that remained were the greetings from well-wishers and fond memories of Colerain High.

"SURPRISE!! Cards Conquer League"

The defensive unit awaits the signals from the sideline.

The 1984 Colerain Fighting Cards "surprised" everyone by winning this year's League Championship. The pre-season poll had the Cards picked to finish in third place behind Mt. Healthy and Oak Hills, but the Cards prevailed by finishing 6-0 in the league and 9-1 overall.

The Cardinals fielded a strong offense but its strength was passing. Quarterback Mark Marsh combined forces with receivers Rick Stallworth, Scott Schweitzer, and leading scorer, Felix Burnette. The rushing attack consisted of Pat Stapleton and was led by senior tailback Van Shelton who broke the school rushing record with a total of 2770 yards for his career.

The Fighting Cardinal defensive unit, led by leading tacklers Dave Abbott and Buddy Campbell, was once again highly ranked in the city. Defensive back Brian Heffron led the team in interceptions, setting a state record of five in a single game.

The 1985 Cardinals will be full of new faces with the departure of many starters, but with the added talent from the J.V. team, the Cards should have another winning season.

"Ready to be Champions"

The Colerain Junior Varsity team, under the guidance of outstanding coaches, finished their hard fought season with a 6-4-0 record.

The Cards were led offensively by their strong armed quarterback Paul Ahr, Junior running backs Barry Rogers and Jimmy Echoles, and Sophomore Donald Davis. The Cards' great offensive out-put should be credited to a strong offensive line. Good showings were made by Tom (Seal) Beal, Jim Rumping, and Vic Piper.

The tough Cardinal defense was led by Junior linebackers Steve Weston and Rick Breen along with great single efforts on the line by Mike Peacock and Gary Cotto. The defensive secondary, led by Jim "Hollywood" Henderson, also played a great part.

These Juniors and Sophomores now have the right attitudes to go on and become the future of Colerain football.

Agility, stamina, and quick thinking were exhibited by Colerain's young soccer team as it made all the right moves. From their heads down to their toes, the players, mostly underclassmen, showed great improvement on the field. Todd Stine and John Fisher, two Juniors, together scored a total of twenty goals.

One of the highlights of the season was when the Cards battled the Oak Hills' Highlanders. It provided a tension filled evening not only for the team, but also for the crowd. The season ended with a final record of 7-9-2 and a league record of 3-3-0 for a third place finish.

GOAL-GETTERS

The Cards go tumbling down.

"Sock it to 'em" could have been the slogan for this 1984 girls' soccer team at Colerain. In existence for only two years, they managed to compile a commendable 6-8-2 record. Memorable games included a 4-4 tie with highly ranked McAuley, as well as victories over Northwest, Western Hills and Mt. Healthy. Diane Davidson and Krissie Huemmer were selected for the All-Star team because of their "goal-getter" style of play. With many players returning, the team promises to be one of the area's finest next season.

Dash and Determination

Twins that run together stay together.

Discipline, dedication, dash, and determination characterized the 1984 cross-country team. Although disappointed by some narrow losses, the team put forth a Herculean effort to qualify for the District meet for the 10th consecutive year. Captain Grant Stanley won individual recognition by qualifying for the state meet where he finished 23rd. He was also named to the second team All-City by the Enquirer. The team anticipates a superb season next year due to the presence of fine underclassmen who will take over vacated spots and who have already shown a desire to be the best.

Grant finishes strong in this race.

Fueled by an inspiring team spirit, the 1984 girls volleyball teams played a rewarding and respectable season. Members of the super-tough HCAL league, they carried their record to a 5-7 in the league, and 6-12 overall. Outstanding performers included: Sandy Ranson, selected to play in the East-West All-Star games; Karla Allgeier, most improved player; Nancy Fehring, best blocker; Missy McHone, best setter; and Sandy Ranson again, most valuable player and division All-League award winner. Colerain eagerly looks forward to the next season when the girls have promised to apply a great deal of "NET PRESSURE" on their opponents.

REIGNING SUPREME

Is this Michael Jordan or Eric Mundy?

Leaping to new heights, the Boys Basketball team won the regional championship and reigned supreme. Most of their impressive wins came in the tournament when they knocked off fourth seeded Mt. Healthy and fifth seeded Greenhills. After the victory over Greenhills, they were now sectional champs and earned a trip to U.D. arena; the first time in eighteen years. Unfortunately they lost to St. Xavier, the second seeded team, in a valiantly fought game. Even in defeat they were victorious, for they exemplified the best team cooperation and ignited school spirit. Long may they reign!

HOLD THE COURT

Preparing to assume the reins of power as the varsity squad bids farewell to many seniors, the J.V. basketball team countered a height disadvantage with a strong defense which enabled them to hold the court.

The strength of the team rested not in individual superstars, but in the ability to work together to achieve success.

While "defense" characterized the boys J.V. team, the girls J.V. squad proved their prowess through a superb offense which produced unnerving 18-1 season.

The Lady Cards outdistanced their rivals in most games by at least 20 points. Especially promising performances were turned in by forward Cathy Hursong and guard Renee Peter. With several more years of play ahead, the girls will undoubtedly "hold the court" in true championship form.

"Powering To The Top"

Coach Schweitzer calms the girls down with a joke.

Cardinal spirit shined through a thick cloud of tough teams this season, leaving the girls' varsity basketball team with a final record of 15-5-0.

Deatra Neal led the Cards, scoring with a total of 347 points and rebounding 292 times. With her expertise and the rest of the "high flying" Cardinals on the court, other schools found it difficult to defeat them. Janet Williams received the award for best defense, and Deatra Neal for best offense. Suzie Harmon was given the "hack" award for most fouls. It was a winning season for the Lady Cards.

"Put the ball in the hoop."

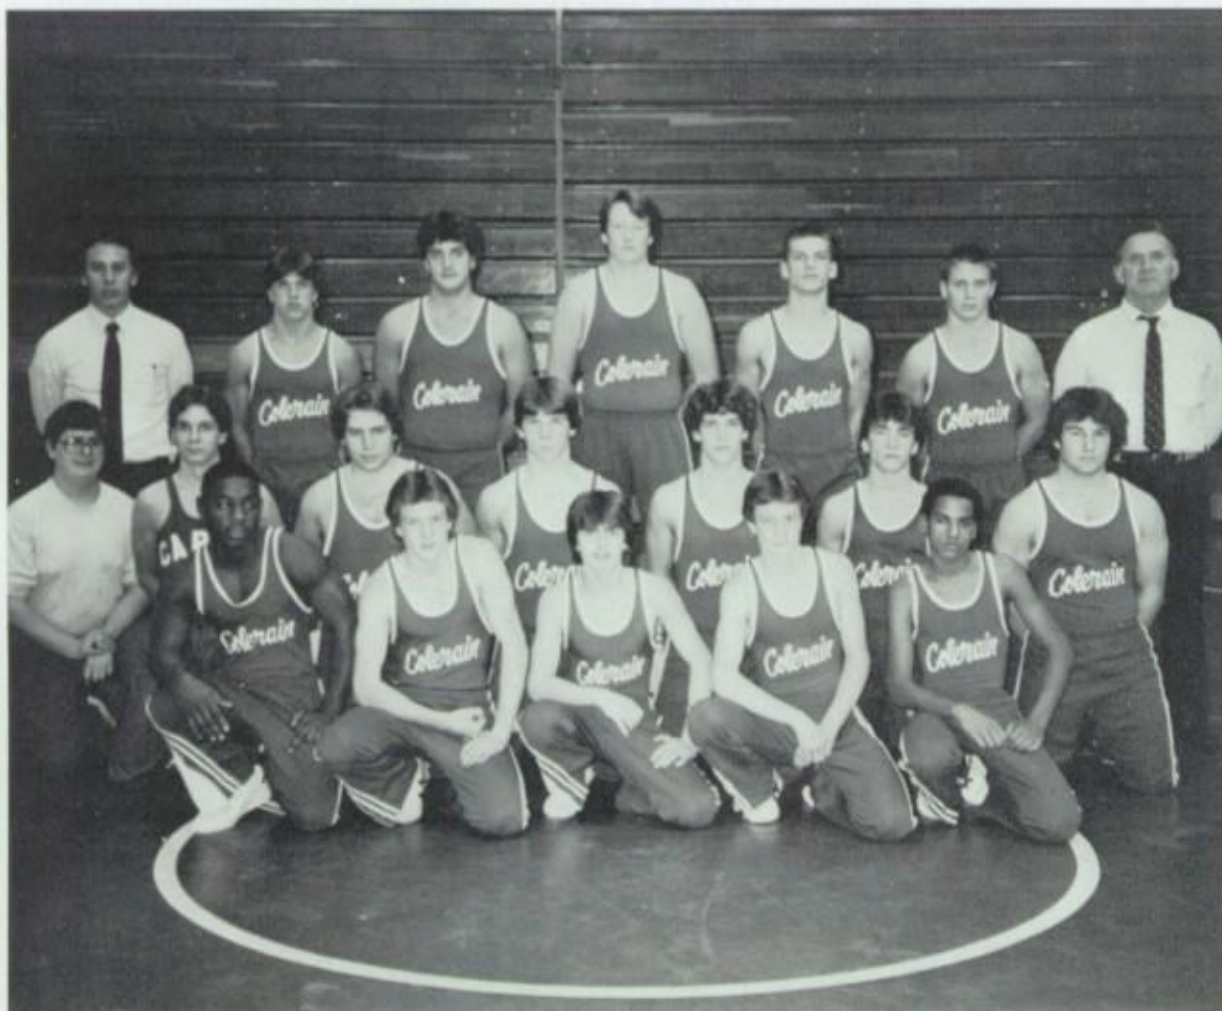

What a jump!

Paul Nerswick, with a fourth place win, and Scott Wolf, with a second place victory in Districts, traveled to Dayton to compete in Regional competition. Pat Stapleton had the most pins of the season with a total of twelve. This '85 wrestling season ended with a final record of 5-4-0.

Building Blocks

"The Recordbreakers!"

Starting the season with many inexperienced runners, Coaches Geisen and Sampson concentrated on building a strong team for the future. Off to a slow start, the team, by the end of the season, shot from the blocks to a third place finish in the league. Along the way, they managed to qualify some members for the regionals held at Dayton.

The strength of the team was in a number of events, such as: Pole vault—Jim Brandenburg; Shot put—Buddy Campbell; 100 meter dash—William Johnson, Cam Beddard, and Felix Burnette; 200 meter dash—William Johnson and Cam Beddard; 400 meter dash—Clint Carter and Daryl Dennie; 400 meter relay—Beddard, Dennie, Burnette, and Johnson. It was a great effort by the team and next season promises to be a fine one.

ON THE COMEBACK TRAIL

The girls relax before the race.

The 1985 Girls Track team fielded another young team this season as they moved along on the comeback trail." With only 20 girls, the team consisted of all underclassmen. Strong support came from some outstanding sophomores such as Susan Hunt, who received the Heman Award, which means she was always there when the coaches needed her. Tabitha Toepfer received the Coaches Award and Carolyn Vogt was the most improved. Junior Renee Peter, the M.V.P. of the team did a great job and qualified for the Dayton regionals in the 300m low hurdles. Next season there will be more experience on the track for coaches Mr. Baitz and Miss Leaf and the girls should have a pretty good season.

THE MAKING OF A HIT

After reaching the regional finals last year, the Cards suffered a somewhat disappointing year. After losing three of their first four games they made a hit by coming back strong to win nine straight, with wins over highly ranked Elder and Western Hills. Leading this year's team with their bats were Todd Cosgrove and Todd Streitenberger. The pitching staff was led by Dave Abbott, Brian Heffron, and Jim Howarth. Fine defensive efforts by catcher Joe Spriggs and third basemen Troy Messer helped the Cards finish with a 17-8 record.

The Junior Varsity team finished the season with a 16-6 record. Leading this team was pitcher Stewart Lovdal and outfielder Jimmy Blaut.

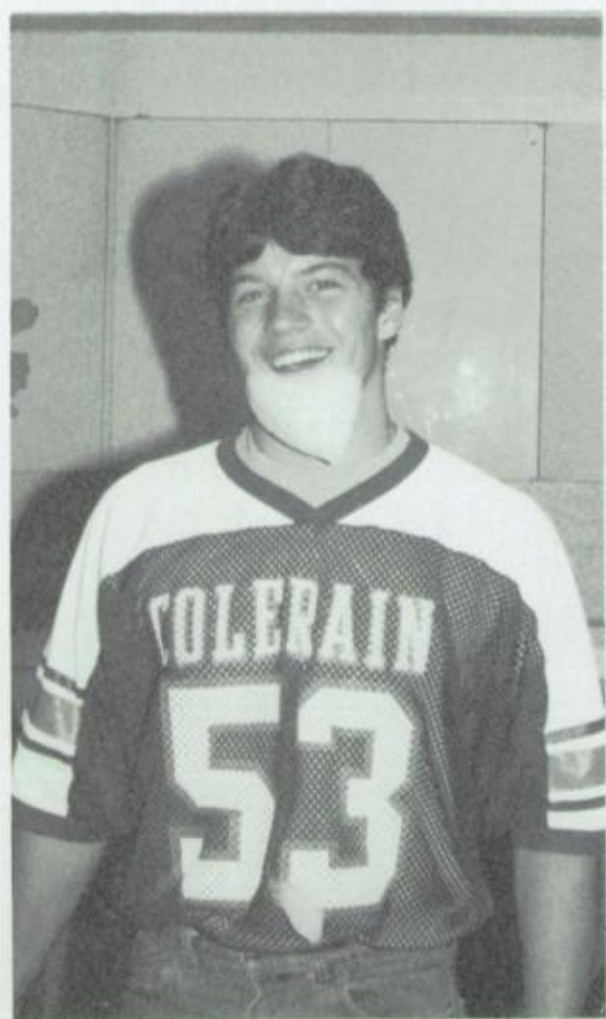

Stewart shows some style.

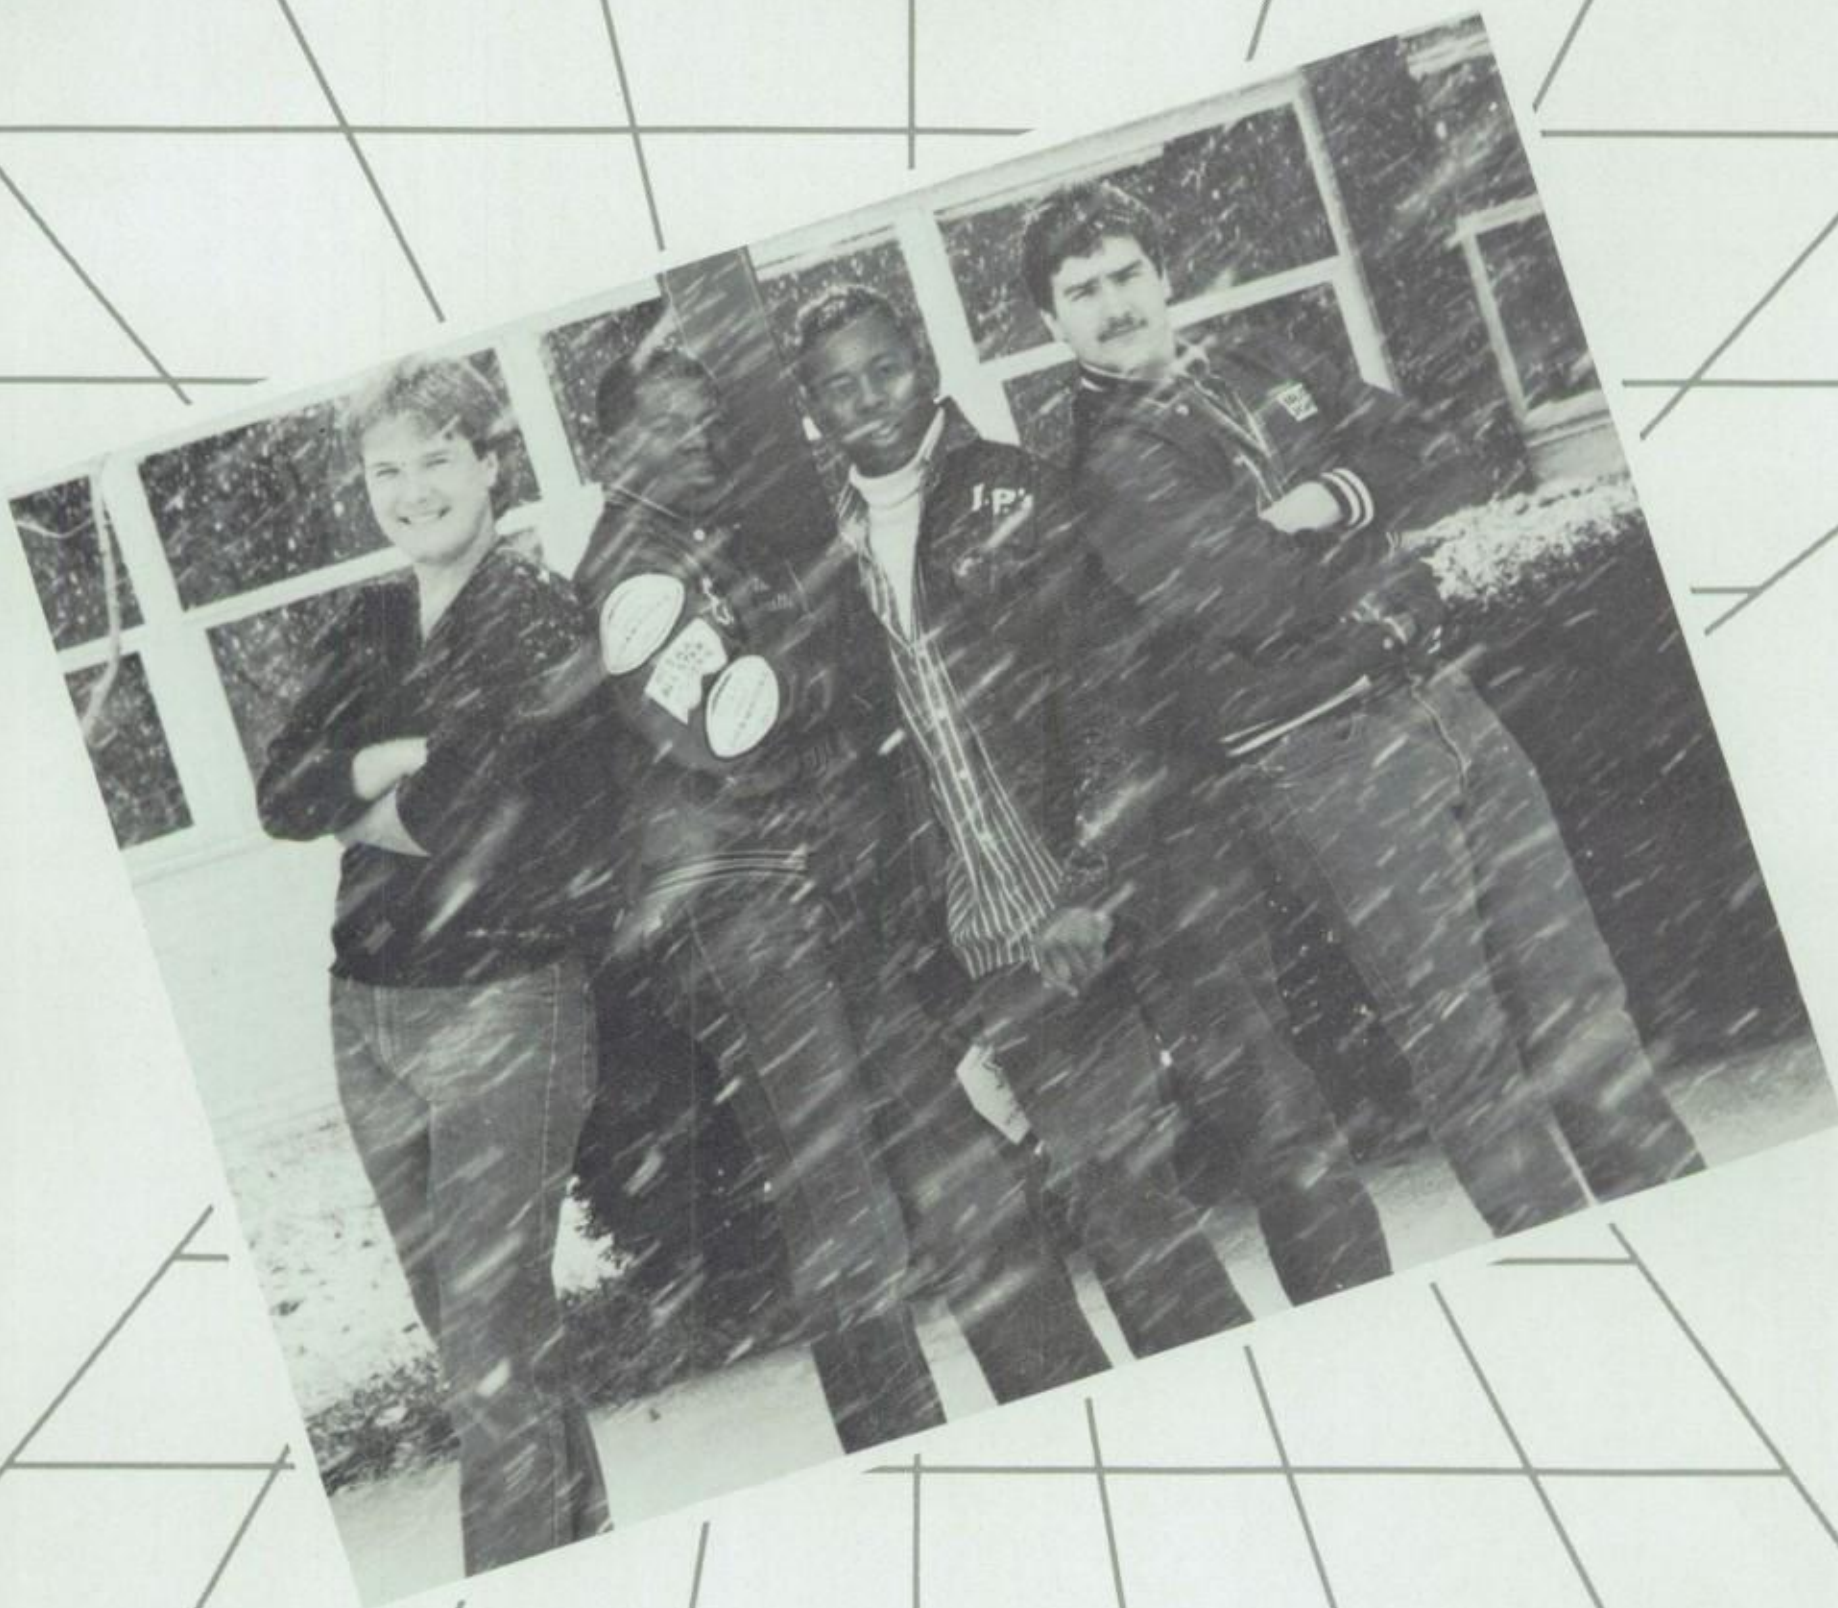

Dean bunts his way to base.

Colerain's electric teachers sparked our interest on a daily basis. Not only did they teach classes every day, but they also advised clubs, sports, and other activities. Faculty members have all earned bachelor degrees, and an impressive 44 hold a master's degree. The faculty displayed a multitude of talent, ranging anywhere from gourmet cooking to writing material worthy of a Pulitzer. Experience was the force behind all the teachers. Colerain's capable staff had an average of 14.6 years of teaching experience. Additional expertise was provided by other staff members. The powerful staff included 64 main building teachers, 21 vocational teachers, 6 counselors, 8 administrators, 2 librarians, 1 nurse, 1 AV manager, and 5 secretaries. Fond memories will remain of Mrs. Voegele, one of the super secretaries, who retired after 22 years with the district. With such a formidable and energetic staff, learning power was definitely turned on.

For the Students, By the Students.

What ever happened to finger painting?

Representing the Student body and organizing school events was one of the responsibilities of the Student Council. The President this year was Pam Gillespie, who gave the announcements in the morning. Throughout the year they met to organize school events such as computer dating, Christmas Dance, Teacher Appreciation Week, and voting for Homecoming King and Queen. Their agenda also included Community Service and a donation to the Shriners Burns Institute. During the year there were student exchanges with other schools. The Student Council helped build a firm base on which students could learn and become better future leaders.

In Control

"C-Test" ... Which one does not belong?

Another year has been kept "In Control" by the C-Club and Presidents Council. C-Club, the pick of the Cards, sparked the Colerain social scene with their excellent planning of both Homecomings. All involved in the club contributed greatly to rousing enthusiasm and pep of the crowds. The Presidents Council was "In Control" of planning club schedules and events. The leaders of all the organizations at school held regular summit meetings to assure a smooth year of activities that would not conflict with others. The cooperation and spirit shared by the groups guaranteed another enjoyable year of activities for all.

Daryl's dreams of days to come.

Looks as if Dolly has some competition.

Barb shows some of that sparkling spirit.

Standing tall for victory.

The Cheerleaders liven up the parade.

SPARKS FOR THE SPIRIT

J.V. Cheerleaders: T. Toepfert, L. Creech, T. Shah, J. Hartman, K. Meinerding, E. Han.

Sparkling the spirit of the students this year was an easy job for the 13 energetic, magnetic cheerleaders. They showed their mighty spirit and enthusiasm doing chants and cheers at football and basketball games and at several lively pep assemblies. But the power of their spirit didn't stop there. They also participated in the Harvest Home Parade and the "Pie in the Face" contest. So who's got the Colerain Spirit? The Cheerleaders . . . of course!!!

What routine is this???

The cheerleaders perform for the students.

Sonia, Kathy and Jennifer are lovely leaders.

Jill, Karen and Dawn keep the flags flying.

Flash and Flair

On parade.

Flags take the field.

Synchronized kicks and swirling flags provided the flash and flair for the performances of the Rhythmettes and Flag Corps. The electrifying routines of the Rhythmettes under the leadership of Captain Kathy Bowman, 1st Lieutenant Sonia Robertson, and 2nd Lieutenant Jennifer Jentes, lit up sporting events and assemblies. Dazzling displays of dexterity by the Flag Corps, under Captain Jill Bolden, 1st Lieutenant Karen Even, and 2nd Lieutenant Dawn Colussi, enhanced half-time shows. Both groups provided sparks which ignited the Cardinal spirit.

Short and sweet strut their stuff.

Julie "flutters" by.

Amy shows the wrestlers how it's done.

Varsity Wrestlettes: Row 1: T. Boehm, K. Chapman, K. Wedinger, Row 2: J. Deitz, A. Obert, A. Lieland, Row 3: L. Earnest, T. Ross, G. Grace.

Reserve Wrestlettes: Row 1: A. Jauch, J. Gosselink, Row 2: L. Minhas, T. Frey, C. Casada, Row 3: C. Stohr, K. Julian, C. Binzer.

"First runner to tag my hand wins."

"Double Duty Dynamos"

Throughout the entire wrestling and track seasons, Wrestlettes and Spikettes had their work cut out for them. Operating the scoreboard at home meets and keeping the individual statistics of each wrestler or runner were the initial tasks of the girls. Equally important was the support, from the sidelines, that the girls gave the athletes as they made the winning pin or that one extra winning stride.

The girls cheered the teams as they won, and gave pep talks when they didn't do so well. With these "Double Duty Dynamos" making it possible for everything to run smoothly and giving their support the athletes could concentrate on continuing their winning ways.

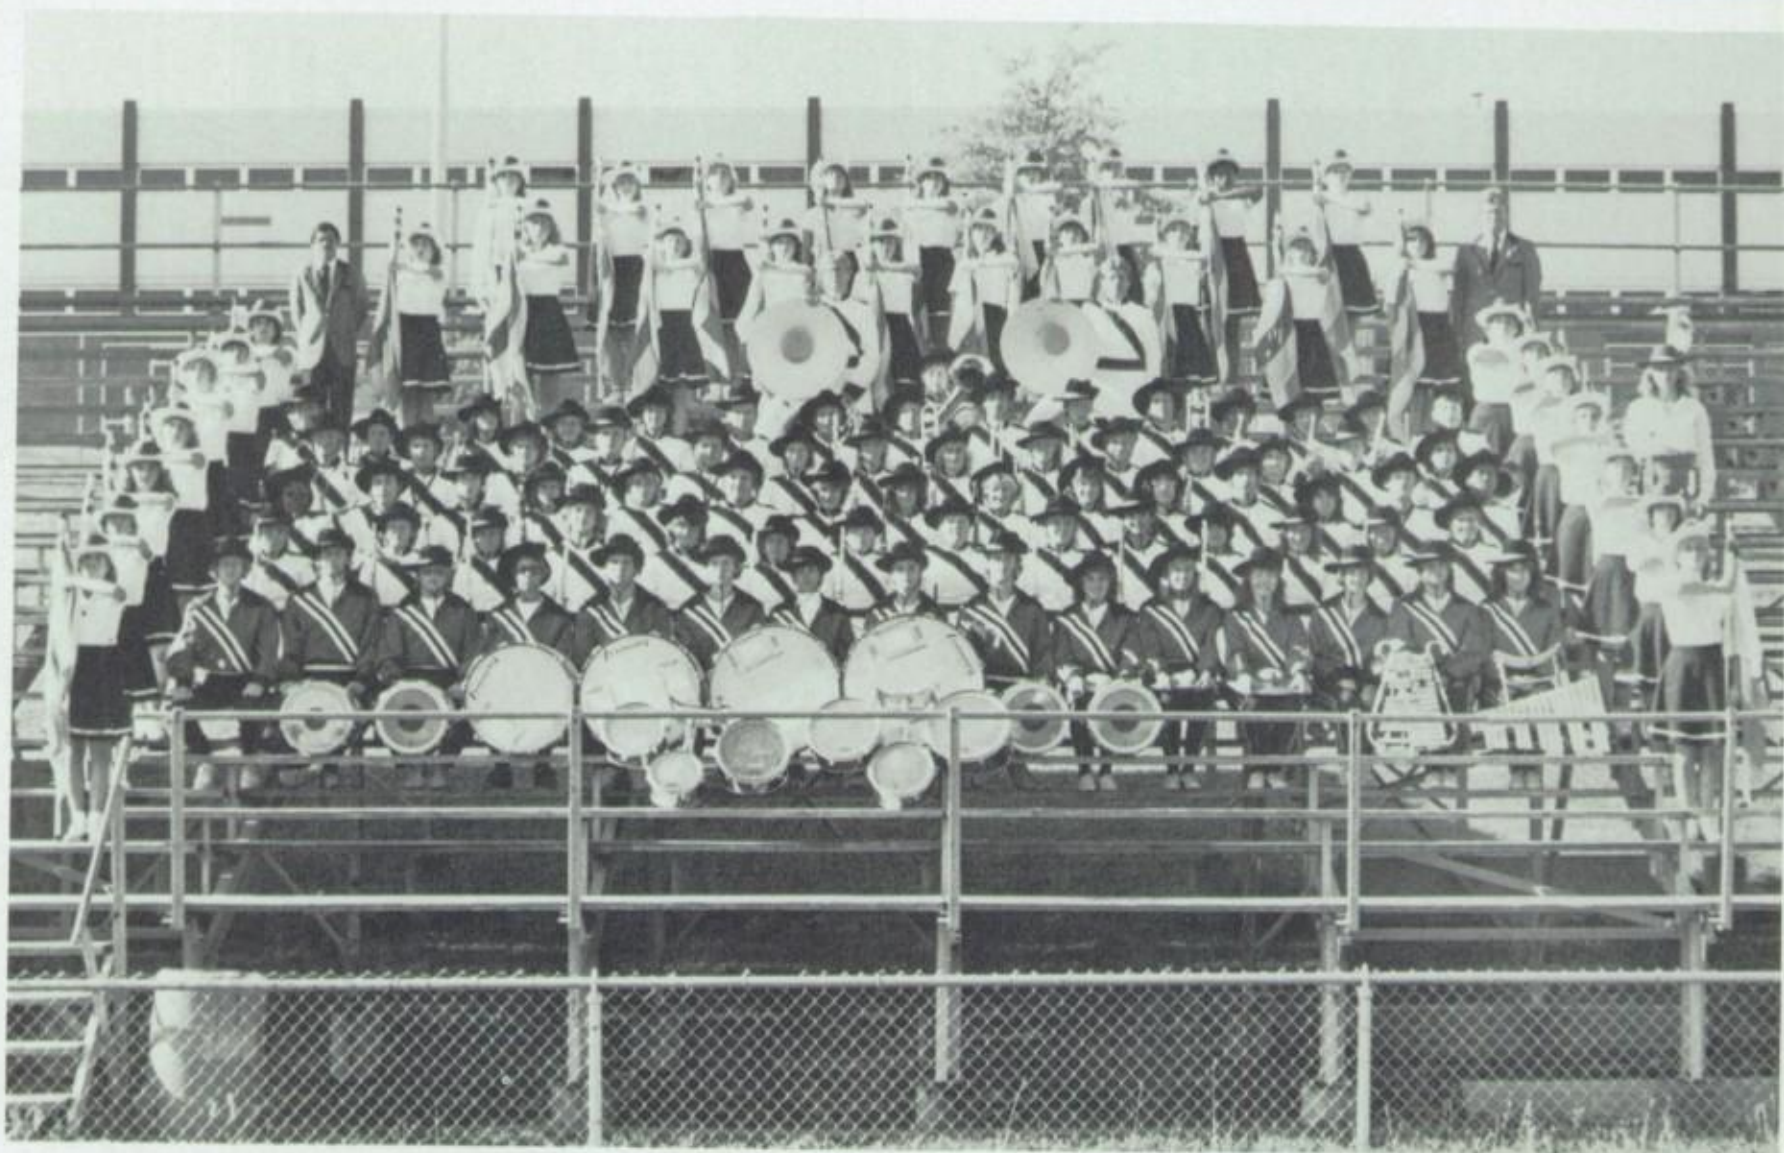

Keeping track of the figures.

A smile speaks for itself.

Captivating Cards were on the move again setting a kinetic pace for their fantastic season. Besides overwhelming the fans at all of Colerain's football games, the Marching Band also magnified their season by performing at the UC versus University of Akron football game at the UC Stadium. To exemplify their success, Wendy Harmon, third time Field Commander, was awarded the title of "Best Field Commander" at the King's Mill Band Competition. Besides other competitions, the Marching Cards, under the direction of Douglas Gaines, placed second in the Western Hills Band Invitational. Because of their dedication, individual skills, and outstanding leadership, the Marching Cards fired up the spirit of Colerain!

Bands Go With The Gusto

Competitions, games, concerts, musical shows and assemblies are nothing new to our bands. For the critical school spirit that is so necessary for victory, we had the pep band.

We had the Show Band to provide the musical background for the singers on the stage during shows, competitions and concerts.

The jazz band provided students with a chance to swing.

Performing with gusto, the bands competed at various competitions and received excellent ratings. Colerain bands strike again!

Master Maestros

Strands of classical music were produced by the Master Maestros of the Colerain Sr. High Orchestra and Concert Band.

Another musical year went by with the Orchestra and Concert Band performing beautifully at the Christmas, Spring, and Outdoor concerts. Their busy musical schedule was filled with concerts at the junior highs as well as competitions where they performed to their upmost ability.

The year, of course, would not have been complete without the annual Spring Musical.

The crescendo of applause which followed their performance was a tribute to the fine talents of these Master Maestros.

Noteworthy were the performances of Colerain's vocal groups. Lending their hands and voices with BRAVADO were the members of Colerain's Collage. Beginning with choreography sessions towards the end of summer proceeding towards their final destination of a grand championship at any one of their three major contests. Collage kept very busy this past year . . . Ensemble . . . their voices almost as colorful as their bright red blazers, had a great year, with some high points being the Christmas song recording at Central Trust Bank, and the solo and ensemble contest held at Colerain High. Lending a little spice and "leggato" to our year was the Women's Choir who also attended the District 14 contest and participated in many of the musical happenings at Colerain. "Hallelujah," another year of music has come and gone at Colerain.

Thespian Troop 1093

"SRO for Talented Troopers"

Many students have a wide range of talent which may not be apparent until they step onto a stage and into the spotlight. When these young actors and actresses of the Colerain Drama Club and Thespian Troop 1093 begin rehearsal, they open up new characters within themselves. The hard work and hours of opening night have their reward on opening night. At Colerain, SRO is commonplace. The past year was no exception. Outstanding plays included: "Belle on Their Toes", "1984", and "Oklahoma".

Impressive performances were turned in by Ellen Walker, Melissa Fehl, and Mark Seyfried. The talented troupers of Colerain are on their way to glory and fame.

Classy Conversationalists

From the Mediterranean Sea to the German Alps, we have got it covered. Our foreign languages ran from Spanish to French to German.

Spanish Club, sponsored by Sra. Plowden, made their way to Chi-Chi's and a live performance of Spanish dancers on Fountain Square.

French Club, sponsored by Madame Foster, went to the Maisonette. It has been a tradition among the French classes for years.

With German Club's hayrides, movies, and parties there never seemed to be a dull moment.

These classy conversationalists unite their intellectuality to exemplify the talents of Colerain.

The Language Honor Societies are national organizations which honor the outstanding students who have chosen to follow the road to another language.

In the springtime, the students whose average is at least 3.5 in their foreign language class and 3.0 average in all of the others combined are chosen to become a member.

With their inauguration comes the possibility of obtaining a scholarship. So, look out world—these are "The Best."

Creative problem solving; that is the challenge offered by Olympics of the Mind, (O.M.) O.M. is not just a club—it's an adventure; one that occurs within the minds of the participants. The special requirements for good O.M. team members is not academic but rather creativity and the ability to think on your feet. This year, Colerain's O.M. team successfully tackled the difficult task of pleasing judges as they placed third in regional competition. O.M. has proven to be another of Colerain's "Winning Traditions."

Students of Distinction

Intelligence, leadership and responsibility were just a few characteristics of the members of both Honor Society and Quill and Scroll.

Quill and Scroll was a nonfunctional club which recognized outstanding students of journalism from the yearbook and newspaper staffs.

The Honor Society members exhibited their abilities by assisting fellow students, senior citizens, Kindervelt, and by participating in scholarship raisers.

Together, these gifted students formed a powerful brain trust at Colerain.

The Power Station

Cardinal power surged as pen met with paper and brain waves struck ideas. One after another the brainstormings receded revealing finished products of hours of labor.

This year's theme, "The Power is On," entered the room and was met with great surges of school spirit and enthusiasm. As the year rolled on, the multitude of novices that comprised the yearbook staff gained knowledge and experience under the direction of their fearless section editors. Felix Bunette, this year's gallant editor-in-chief, combined expertise with stern measures to bring the Cardinal to its present level of perfection.

Input Talent, Output Future

Creative students were given the opportunity of displaying their varied skills and talents by joining art, science or computer clubs at Colerain. Calculating minds put on intriguing displays as they programmed computers and their future. Mind boggling science questions of the week, complete with prizes for correct answers, were the brainstorms of science club members. Aesthetic displays for the stage and school were designed by the "master" artists who belonged to the art club. The input of so much talent into such diversified groups provided a Renaissance atmosphere which promises great output for the future.

Guiding Lights

Which one of these doesn't belong?

Camp Counselors guided their campers in the right direction during their stay at Camp Kern. During the time spent at camp, the campers built a human pyramid and hiked to Pete's Tower. The renowned night hike resulted in a night the campers and counselors wouldn't forget, especially since the common cabin raids resulted in the disappearance of all flashlights. The "guiding light" proved to be Colerain's caring counselors.

The Anthropology Club has existed from the ancient times of Colerain High and is still going strong. Mr. Sampson, who has been mistakenly identified as the missing link, continued his leadership by taking students to his favorite "digs." From fossils to Zoo field trips, the Anthropology Club had the best of all worlds, old and new. Exploring new worlds through education and fun was the purpose of camp counselors and Anthropology Club.

Honoring their heritage and promoting kinship were among the goals of Black Culture Club and Modern European Culture Club. Sponsored by "Doc" Nevels, the newly organized European Culture Club, with their motto "Living on the Edge," sought to build school spirit as well as a feeling of camaraderie. A field trip to local art museums was one of the group's planned activities.

Black Culture Club, sponsored by Mr. Hafer, learned to take pride in their culture as well as in their school. In March, the club had a fashion show in which most of the members took part. They also had flower sales and some field trips. Led by officers Pam Gillespie, Daryl Dennie, Deatra Neal and Colette Mapp, the members proved that working and learning together can build strong friendships.

The Pen is Mightier than the Sword

This is SOooo interesting!

Literary Guild and Science Fi. Club were focused on the artistic productions of language. The members of these groups had the potential of composing several great feats. By experimenting with novel techniques, new adventures in writing were opened so that the club members could go where no student had ever gone before. Literary appreciation was built and skills were sharpened proving the pen was indeed, mightier than the sword.

"We want our MTV."

The power of the people had many helping hands. Library aides sought and found lost novels and explored the depths of the card catalog. Counselor aides assisted our friendly advisors by delving into expansive files and saving students from the perils of classroom activity. The audio visual aides took advantage of theatrical aspects by keeping track of film projectors and recorded programs. Office aides became acquainted with office duties and read significant messages over the sound system. Together these volunteers were the extension between the power outlets and Colerain High School.

"Spotlighting the Future"

Spotlighting future careers in education was the primary focus of club activities for FTA, Future Teachers of America. The students involved in FTA all have interests in the area of education, and someday wish to become teachers. The FTA members met twice a month and discussed and planned educational field trips which they attended in order to learn more about pursuing a teaching career.

Taking a tour of Miami University and shadowing teachers at Monfort Heights Elementary were among the group's field trips. FTA had another exceptional year under the leadership of Mrs. Abner. The 84-85 officers included Leslie Worsley as president, Sheri Brady as vice-president, and Tracy Schlueter as secretary. The group was pleased with the exciting and educational year they experienced. Someday these students may fulfill their dreams of becoming a teacher and, who knows, maybe they'll be teaching your kids.

Applied Energy

The Vocational program of education here at Colerain is one in which we take great pride. The energy with which they apply themselves to their vocations is of such great intensity that it cannot be measured.

The High Skilled Stenography program is only for those students interested in acquiring the training that will enable them to find employment as secretaries and stenographers in the modern office. Office management and a general understanding of the broader aspects of business and office work are also included in this field.

For those who are interested in office education in an area other than the stenographic field there is the Clerk Typist/Administrative Support program. They are instructed on the needs of today's automated office and on how to manage modern technological equipment.

For those with mechanical minds, there is the program of Diesel and Truck Mechanics. The student is provided with experiences that will help him understand the mechanical operation and capabilities of heavy equipment.

The Machine Trades program is devoted to developing the concepts, skills, and understandings needed to function in the machine tool industry.

The Drafting Program is designed to give students a good background in drafting techniques which are used in modern manufacturing processes.

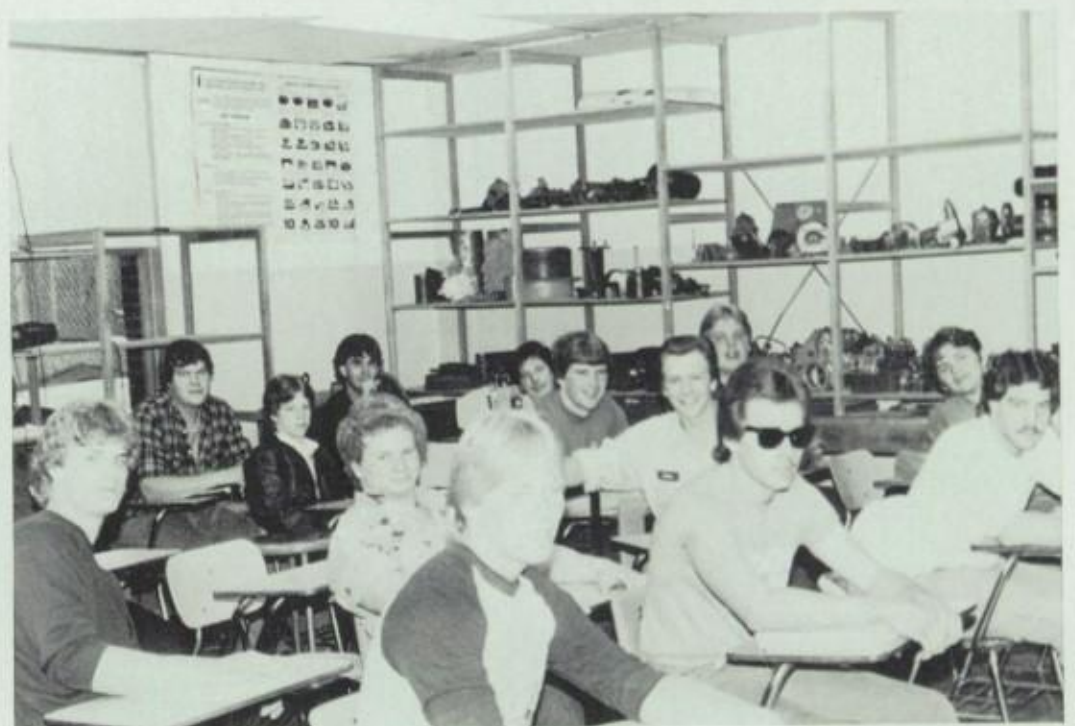

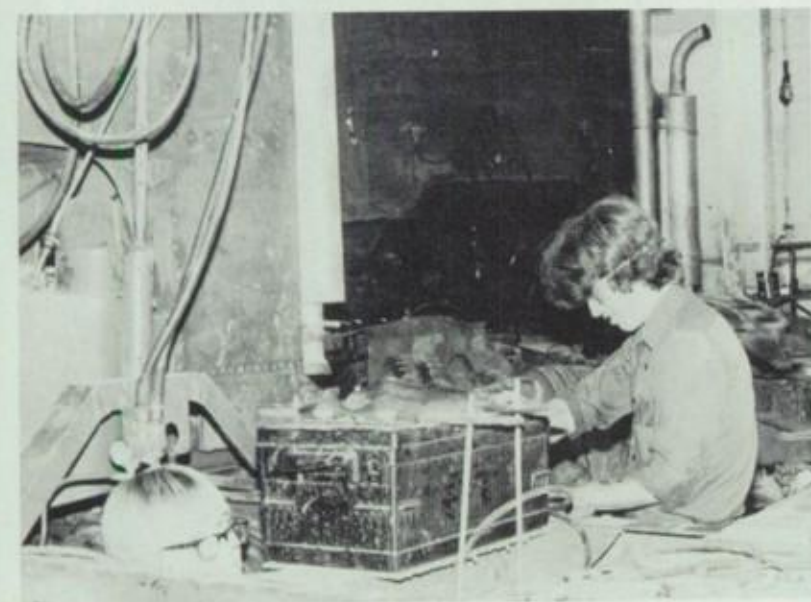

The primary goal of the D.H.O. program is to develop the student's background in health care skills and procedures for future employment in health care facilities.

COE is provided for individuals who have previously completed part of the course work in another business program.

The Community Service Careers program is designed for those seniors who desire to enter occupational fields within the broad categories of Food Service, Fabric Service, and Community and Home Service.

The program of Data Processing includes all those operations involved in the collecting, recording, and storing of data for use in computerized business offices. This course is designed to prepare the student for application of all computer equipment.

Goodbye

When the time comes that you must say goodbye
Hold back your emotions and try not to cry
Look through the years and past memories of Colerain
Some kids here have been a royal pain
We're going to miss you, we don't want you to go
Experience, knowledge, and loveliness, we want you to show
With grace and skill, you conduct the class
Trying your hardest to get everybody to pass
Your classes are fun, your classes are different
All the bad doers come to you to repent
They come to you for love, they come to you for advice
They respect you, They love you, They think you're nice
Like cheese and wine, you get better with age
You'll be free as a bird, without a cage
We love you, Mrs. Bullock, we don't want you to go
I wrote this poem to let you know
When you think of Colerain, don't you fret
Think of the good things that you shouldn't regret
The time has come, we must say goodbye
We say these words with a deep sigh.

The Power Is On

What else could highlight this great year other than this awesome yearbook. Great job, guys! This may be the best yearbook in Colerain's history. If it isn't, I'm sure next year's will be! Good Luck!

Long live The Bone and the 1984-85 yearbook staff!
